

Celuform Helps Two Rivers Housing provide Decent Homes

Leading cellular building products supplier, Celuform has won a new partnering contract between Two Rivers Housing, J K Home Improvements, The CLC Group and National Plastics to provide Decent Homes for residents in the Forest of Dean. The contract for five years includes external cyclical maintenance works on roofs, roofline, down pipes, windows, doors, external decorations and fencing. "It's a complete facelift for homes in the northern part of the Forest of Dean," says Martin Barnfield, of main contractor on the project, CLC.

"We had worked with Two Rivers Housing before so knowing we could deliver work on time and quality, we were selected for this latest Refurb work. Having also worked with Celuform before, we knew it met the quality standards for this contract and although the client wanted to pay its due diligence and compare several suppliers, Celuform came out on top. For this particular project we'll be using its multi purpose soffit boards, plain fascia boards and trims. The added benefit for us is the technical back up Celuform offers."

"We're supplying the Celuform products for the Two Rivers Housing Decent Homes project," says the Head of the Distribution Division, Geoff Foster.

"We are completely committed to supplying customers with the highest quality products, service and value they deserve and Two Rivers Housing is no different, being supplied from our Cardiff branch."

J K Home Improvements was selected by CLC to install the Celuform products on this particular project. Director of JK Home Improvements, Kevin George explains its role in the project: "We only install Celuform products so we have the expertise to do the best possible job. It takes our fitting team about a day to complete each house with the products used on this particular project." J K Home Improvements has tripled in size since it was established two years ago and aims to be the largest installer of Celuform products in South Wales.

Gareth Roderick, Regional Contracts Manager for the Celuform brand concludes: "This is a great project for everyone involved and we're delighted our products have been selected to regenerate homes in this area. Our leading maintenance free PVC-UE building products are proving popular in Two Rivers Housing and other Housing Associations across the country."
